

Annual Report

...“With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.”
—Matthew 19:26

Dear Friend of LASE,

The 2016–17 school year was a change for LASE. The footprint of our ministry is extensive and we are both proud of our rich 60-year legacy and excited about continuing to touch the lives of thousands of students academically, socially and spiritually.

With the hiring of Jackie Smith as Executive Director (in June 2016), the first priority during the 2016–17 school year was to successfully complete the National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) process. NLSA serves as the accrediting body for Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. Through a self-study process, NLSA comprehensively evaluates compliance with national standards that reflect the seven essential standards expected by Lutheran programs. LASE faculty, staff, board and key volunteers worked tirelessly and in unity to complete this 9-month process. It gave us the opportunity to really understand how broadly we touch the lives of God’s children every day. We are thankful to the NLSA team for their guidance, and we are pleased and proud to have received full accreditation in May of 2017.

Thanks to our generous community of donors and partners, LASE brings quality ‘individualized’ education services to children struggling with learning. In 2016–17 we touched the lives of 973 students in our 14 Lutheran Schools, helping them to be equipped, supported and empowered so they can flourish. For a small ministry, LASE has tremendous impact and we are now seeking new opportunities and partnerships so we can reach more children and families who need us.

The 2017–18 school year is a strategic planning year for LASE and we are excited to be developing a new vision and direction to address the unique needs of children who learn differently, in more schools, in more ways and with more children.

We have a lot to do. We value your continued support and prayer.

With God’s blessings and guidance, we can do it! Always.

In His Service,

Bette Schlie

“With man, this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.”
—Matthew 19:26

For over 60 years, LASE has provided exceptional customized special education services to students in Lutheran schools. LASE professionals served 973 children in 14 Lutheran schools in the metropolitan St. Louis area during the 2016–17 school year.

We provide services to students with mild to moderate disabilities including learning disabilities, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, high functioning autism, language impaired and others. In addition to serving students with diagnosed educational disabilities, we are able to identify and serve students evaluated as “at risk” or who are identified as “non-disabled” but still need individualized attention in order to be successful.

The LASE mission to develop the God-given potential of every child is accomplished by providing special education expertise, consultations, speech/language services and other assistance programs that are customized for the schools we serve. LASE has impacted the lives of thousands of students while sharing the good news of Jesus.
